I almost thought this was a joke. I have to say I do not like Walmart stores to begin with. I will not support them financially. I am a small business owner and it really bothers me how when a Wal Mart moves into the community, the "little" business owners suffer. There is also the issue of employees being treated badly and women employees being discriminated against. Walmart won't let their workers unionize to protect their jobs. I would never want my money in a Wal mart "bank". The whole idea seems crazy to me.
